French Crisis Apparently No Brighter

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The chief question in the new French cabinet seems to be whether a "strong man" cabinet will be formed now or later.

The political situation, confused since the end of World War II, is drifting toward chaos.

Felix Gaillard, who resigned Tuesday after a defeat in the National Assembly on Tunisian policy, was France's 25th premier since the country's liberation in 1944.

Gaillard had been in office for five months and nine days. The average length of a premier's official life has been seven months. The longest period for which a premier has been able to remain in office by holding together a quinquennial coalition of divergent political groups has been a little over 16 months. One cabinet lasted four days.

Four Solutions Seen

Four possibilities seem to lie ahead:

Another patchwork coalition, whose leader will have no authority and who will be constantly at the mercy of the chief coalition groups.

Constitutional reform, to limit the power of the National assembly, the controlling house of parliament, to overthrow a government and to give the premier adequate executive authority.

Formation of a "united front" by left-wing party members in the government, with the certainty that the Communists would rule or ruin it.

Formation of a "strong man" cabinet, under either a formal constitutional reform act or emergency legislation, with a man of dominant personality at its head.

French Wartime Leader

The only "strong man" in sight is Gen. Charles de Gaulle at this time. He led the free France who refused to admit defeat in 1940.

De Gaulle, now 67, is waiting for a call.

De Gaulle has been out of politics for six years. He has remained silent in crisis after crisis.

But during those years, and especially within the last few months, the "shadow of De Gaulle" as the political writers call it has been lengthening and becoming plainer against the background of confusion.

Broyles Has 'Much Better' Grid Practice

FAYETTEVILLE (UP)—Eighty-five candidates for the 1958 Arkansas Razorback football machine ran through their second day of spring drills Wednesday and Coach Frank Broyles called the practice "much better."

Broyles, somewhat disappointed with the first day's drills, said Wednesday's workouts were better because "the new coaching staff and the boys are getting together."

Broyles said the squad would be cut early next week "when the coaches feel they're ready to select the four best players in each position."

The former Missouri motorist said that starting today, movies will be made of each practice. Broyles said the motion pictures would help the coaching staff in grading players for selection.

Alvin (B.) Huffman, a sophomore lineman from Fayetteville, became the spring season's first casualty. He dislocated a shoulder. Coaches said he might be out the rest of the spring drills.

ORIENTAL ORBIT—A "satellite" orbit around the skirt of a sheath in this evening gown being modeled in Tokyo. Inspired by the space age, the light blue shantung dress was created by designer Akira Kuga.

This Rooster Has Four Legs

FAYETTEVILLE (UP)—Job's Turkey may be poor but Leslie Harold's rooster has four legs.

Harold, a chicken producer in the Baldwin community, near here, raised the freak chicken, which is 12 weeks old. Harold said the bird weighed 7 1/2 pounds, which is about average for a chicken 12 weeks old.

He said the rooster's two "extra" legs from off the thigh of its left leg and jut-out towards the back. They can't be used for walking but have toenails and colored like the two regular legs.

Drummond Won't Play for Porkers

FAYETTEVILLE (UP)—Lamar Drummond, a fullback on last year's Arkansas Razorback football team, said he expects to sign soon with either the St. Louis Cardinals, the Detroit Tigers or the Chicago Cubs.

Drummond, a junior from El Drado, said all three clubs have made him "definite offers."

CHOLERA EPIDEMIC SPREADS

CALCUTTA, India (UP)—The current cholera epidemic has claimed about 500 lives so far this year, authorities said today. Inoculations are not keeping pace with the spread of the disease in the densely populated areas, due mainly to the shortage of water. While usually cholera is limited to slum areas, this year it has spread into the middle-class groups.

SPEISER TO MEET PITTS
DETROIT (UP)—Chuck Speiser, the sixth-ranked light-heavyweight contender, has agreed to meet Orville Pitts in a 10-round bout in Milwaukee, May 10. Speiser, who is making a comeback after being knocked out by Tony Anthony a year ago, decided Bobby Lane of Miami his last time out.

Wire Plant to Build at Rector

RECTOR (UP)—Construction is to start immediately on a $100,000 factory for a wire and metal products plant which will employ from 50 to 100 persons.

Production by the Rector Wire Manufacturing Co., is expected to start by July 1.

Bert E. Sigbsby, president of the Rector Industrial Development, said the firm will build a plant in the southwest part of town. The building will be built with money which stock-buying residents posted. The company will lease the building and cost of the structure is to be amortized in 15 years.

Union Men Invoke 5th Amendment

WASHINGTON (UP)—Thirteen more Philadelphia Teamsters invoked the Fifth Amendment before the Senate Rackets Committee today. They refused to say whether they received pay offs from an official accused of using strong-arm tactics to gain control of the local.

They brought to 27 the number of members of Local 107 who have refused in the past two days on constitutional grounds of possible self-incrimination.

Typical of the witnesses was Edward Walker, recording secretary of the local. He balked at saying whether he received pay-offs from Raymond Cohen, secretary-treasurer and reputed boss of the local.

"What was your cut?" asked Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.).

"I am advised that I have a right not to be a witness against myself under the Fifth Amendment," Walker replied, reading the statement from a slip of paper.

Records produced by committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy indicated the alleged payoffs amounted to more than $1,500.

After disposing of Walker, the committee began calling the witnesses three at a time.

McClellan told Kennedy he wanted the committee to check the income tax returns of the witnesses to find out if the fund transactions being investigated were reported to the government.

Grocer Named to Head Young Demos

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (UP)—A newly organized North Little Rock Young Democrats Club elected a local grocer, W. S. Clements, as president Wednesday.

Clements, a supporter of Gov. Orval Faubus, said three delegates were elected to attend the state Young Democrats convention.

Earl L. Fewell, an electrical contractor, was named vice-president of the club, and James Canfield, a newspaper advertising man, was elected secretary-treasurer.

This happy bride is radiant in a formal wedding gown of imported French Chantilly lace embroidered with chiffon rosettes. Side panels are in matching white chiffon. She carries a prayer book decorated with white hyacinths and baby ivy in an arrangement by Irene Flayes. (Photographed in the home of Leonard Stillman.)

For the young bride, the ballerina length dress is the prettiest. This bride wears imported white lace cut with very full skirt and with white taffeta midriff. Her miniature mantilla is in matching lace. It provides sheer flattery.

DOROTHY DIX

Rumor Mill Can Grind a Reputation to Dust

Dear Dorothy Dix: My boy friend has a week's vacation coming up, and I could take a week off at the same time. We'd like to go for a trip together but mother objects. The only reason she gives is, "What will people say?" I don't think it's important what other people say. If my own conscience is clear other people's opinions don't matter.

W. K.

Dear W. K.: Your reputation can be made and unmade on "What people will say." Out of the long struggle from savagery to civilization, certain rules of conduct have evolved for the protection of mankind. And one of these is that young men and women don't go off on pleasure jaunts. When you and your boy friend are married, you'll have plenty of time to travel. Until then, have a proper regard for neighborhood gossips and don't do anything to get their tongues a-wagging.

he wants me to take what he thinks is best. Also, he expects me to tell him 50 times a day that I appreciate the fact that he'll send me to college. I think he wants too much credit.

WINNIE P.

Dear Winnie: It's up to you and your teacher-counselors to decide what program best suits you. Dad may have his ideas and wishes, but he can't dictate your future. You might solve everything by winning a scholarship; apparently your teachers think you're capable of cornering one. Write for my leaflet, "You Can Win A Scholarship." Please send a stamped, self-addressed envelop for it—it may be the key to your problem.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My mother-in-law is a very fine person and we had a very good relationship for the first four years of my marriage. My husband and I went to see her every week, rain or shine. Sometimes we waited in freezing cold weather for a bus, but get there we did. Well, last year I had a baby and can't make the long trip so often. They come to see us about once a month and keep asking why we don't visit them.

JUNE

Dear June: Spo—what's the gripe? If they didn't ask, you'd be insulted. Seems to me you have very little to complain about. Don't get into the habit of being kept in by the baby. On nice weekends I'm sure you could make the trip occasionally. Traveling with a baby isn't the chore you make it, especially when you have two people to help with the paraphernalia.

Dear Bettina: Have a money-to-money talk with your husband. Try to make him see how fortunate he is to have a moneywise wife, and suggest that you keep the bank account in your name. If he doesn't agree, open a separate account in your name. Family finances should be in the hands of the person who can handle money best. It's a talent not given to everyone.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a high school freshman and have college as my goal. I know what I want to study and have arranged my present schedule accordingly. My father is willing to pay for college, and would like to see me go, but

Newport Judge to Announce Again

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Circuit Judge Andrew Ponder of Newport announced today as a candidate for his second full term on the third judicial district bench.

The 41-year-old judge filed his corrupt practices pledge with Secretary of State C. G. Hall. He was elected in 1932 to fill the unexpired term of Judge Millard Hardin, also of Newport, who had died in office. Ponder was elected to his first complete four-year term in 1934.

Prior to being elected to the circuit judgeship, Ponder had served two years as chancellor.

He was born and reared in Walnut Ridge, and moved to Newport in 1919. He served as a special agent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for more than nine years before his election as chancellor.

Boyd Bangs Out Victory Over Rivers
CHICAGO (UP)—Middleweight Bobby Boyd got out but he didn't hurt and his manager believed today he might be ready for a "keep active" campaign leading to a title chase.

Boyd defeated Neal Rivers, 3th ranked by the National Boxing Association, by an overwhelming margin in Wednesday night's TV but the referee and other judges gave him no worse than an even break in every round, scoring him the maximum 50 points for the bout.

But manager Bernie Glickman couldn't rate him that highly. "He got out in the last round and threw about 20 punches," he said. "I told him not to take any chances. He had the fight won, and he wouldn't get any more for knocking the guy out. But one right hand, and he might be out of there."

Boyd was close to his peak against Rivers, but the latter, who had a three-fight winning streak broken by his seventh defeat in 48 bouts, wasn't in peak form.

He got a nose bleed in the third or fourth round, manager Norm Lockwood explained, "and it aggravated and interfered with his breathing."

Boyd was complimentary to his foe. "Man," he said, "he can hit. He was punching me in the body hard and I didn't want any of that. But he never hit me good enough to take me out. Most of the time I was moving with the punch and he just knocked me off balance."

It was Boyd's 48th win against eight losses. He weighed 162 pounds against 160 1/2 for Rivers.

Soviet Wrestlers Beating Americans

NEW YORK (UP)—Russia's team of champion amateur wrestlers is expected to conclude an all-conquering tour of the United States tonight by beating a team of American stars for the fourth time.

The Soviet grapplers already have beaten the Americans in matches at Norman, Okla., and Stillwater, Okla., last week and at Tulsa, Okla., Tuesday. The U.S. athletes have won only five bouts so far. Two of their victories by 12 1/2 point Terry McCann of the Tulsa YMCA at Norman over Russia's Vladimir Arsenyan.

McCann, who drew with Arsenyan at Tulsa, is one of the two top Americans given a chance to win tonight. The other is 312-pound Bill Kerslake of Cleveland, who twice has drawn with Russian heavyweight Otar Kandelaki.

Spectators at tonight's matches will include Mikhail Mentshikov, Soviet ambassador to the United States, and 80-year-old George Hackenschmidt, known as the "Russian Lion" when he was one of the world's top professional wrestlers.

Complaint Against Ft. Smith Curfew
FORT SMITH (UP)—The manager of a skating rink registered the first complaint against Fort Smith's new teen-age curfew Wednesday.

M. C. Jarrell met with the city commission and charged the curfew was causing a "hardship on businessmen, church and school organizations."

Jarrell told the commission he had to turn down six requests for parties by church and school groups because of the curfew. He said it had been his experience that such parties were properly supervised.

The curfew stipulates that youngsters under 18 must be off the streets and out of business establishments by 10:30 p.m. from Thursday through Sunday and by 12:30 a.m. on Friday and Saturday.

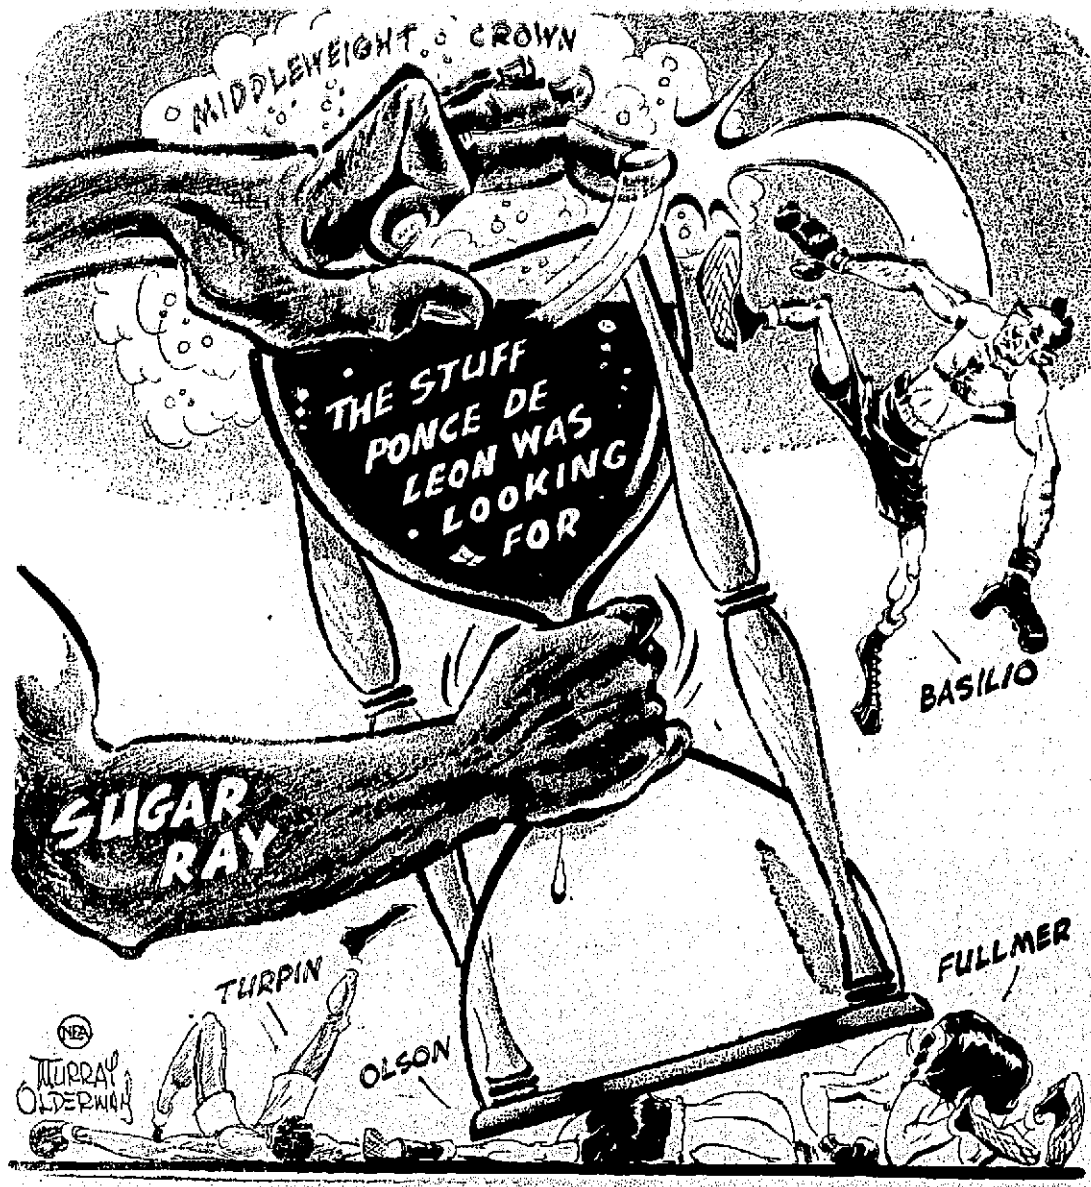

Jarrell asked if the ordinance setting up the curfew could not be amended so that properly supervised groups from churches and schools could be excluded.

One commission said he had had complaints because teen-agers haven't been able to attend drives in movies.

The commission took no action and said one deviation in the curfew would open the way for others.

Martin Up to Old Tricks With Detroit

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE
(Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.)
By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—The end line was buried in the flood of opening day baseball copy but it spoke volumes.

It read: "RBI—Martin." Those few letters proclaimed to the watching baseball world that Billy Martin still was at it. His single drove home the run which successfully opened the season for the Detroit Tigers.

It must have produced mixed reactions in places like New York, Washington and Kansas City. Among the Yankees, who traded him away last season, to Washington manager Cookie Lavagetto who was Billy the Kidd's roommate at Oakland in the long ago and at Kansas City, from where he was sent to Detroit last November.

Something Extra
It told all of them that the scrappy, skinny guy still has the "something extra" which made him Casey Stengel's "boy" when he was breaking in on the Coast 13 years ago. Those were the days when the scrawny 16-year-old with a battered drug store glove and a scarecrow uniform stopped everything that the gnarled Oakland manager — destined to attain managerial greatness with the Yankees — smashed at him.

That defiance as much as anything, has written the saga of Billy Martin.

Two years ago he was labeled by teammate Gerry Coleman as the "best clutch player on the Yankees." But in the front office they didn't like him. He didn't conform to the demanded Yankee pattern of off-field anonymity. Billy was an extrovert who liked the bright lights and the accusation went, lured Mickey Mantle on the primrose path.

It boiled to a head when Martin, Mantle, Hank Bauer, Whitey Ford, Yogi Berra and Johnny Kucks became embroiled in an after-hours fracas at the Copacabana.

Peddled to Athletics
Without consulting Stengel, the front office peddled Martin to Kansas City. It was a move which may have cost them the subsequent World Series against the Braves. A jockeying, nagging, battling Martinay Faifo have turned the tide.

Dazzling World Series play always was his specialty. In 1953, after a poor season Billy took personal charge of the series with a record-tying 12 hits. Among them were two homers, two triples and a double for 23 total bases which erased Babe Ruth's six-game mark of 19 total bases set in 1923.

The kid whose nature demands 5kc ediao...4c jackpot got a life when he was traded to Detroit. He has confidence. So those who know him weren't too surprised that Martin's hit should win the opener.

Trials Develop Shooting Dogs
By Joe Stetson
Dog Editor

A good field trial springer spaniel is a good hunting dog. The field trial may have artificial aspects and the interpretations of certain phases of dog work by certain judges may once in a while lack consideration of the natural instincts of a good hunting dog. But trial after trial, flushing dog trials are intended, designed, run and judged in such a way as to develop high class shooting dogs. The top dog is the one which has so deported himself over land and water during that stake as to be the dog the judges would like most to run over.

In trials, a desire to hunt a good nose, marking ability, inclination to go to the right places, willingness to hit cover or water and boldness in getting the game off the ground are sought. These same characteristics are desirable in a good shooting dog.

Couple them with good marking, quick pick-up, prompt return, willing delivery, good forward pattern and, above all, steadiness to wing, shot and command, and we have a dog that will be successful in trials.

If he demonstrates them on a consistently high level and in pleasing fashion, he is excellent. If he has thrilling style and throws in an occasional "impossible" performance, he is great.

Hershey Bears Need One Game
SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UP)—The Hershey Bears return home today, needing only one more victory to sew up the American Hockey League playoff title.

The Bears nosed out the stubborn Springfield Indians, 7-6, at Springfield Wednesday night to take a commanding 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven final series.

A goal by defenseman Noel Price in the final minute was the clincher in a wild nip-and-tuck battle which saw the lead change hands four times. The Indians held a 2-1 lead at the end of the first period, but the favored Bears roared back with three goals in each of the last two sessions.

The Bears won despite a brilliant performance by Paul Finnan, who scored four goals for the losers.

Ladies Happy Bums Moved to Los Angeles

By ZSA SA GABOR
Written for United Press

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Of course I'm delighted about major league baseball coming to Los Angeles — with all these men and that enormous diamond, what woman wouldn't be?

All of the women in Hollywood and Los Angeles are happy about it, because now they will be able to go the stadium and actually see who is playing ball with who around here.

Naturally, I have never played an actual baseball game. Oh, I've had some fast pitches made to me, in fact I've made some pretty good catches, but I mean I've never really played baseball.

A dear friend of mine once took me out to watch the Dodgers and to explain the game to me.

Dreadful Knee Pants

Heavens, the uniforms are terrible. Those dreadful knee pants, and their long Johns hanging out of their sleeves. But I am going to offer to redesign them. I think our team would look lovely in malador pants, they will be so much more chic for this part of the country.

But they are very good players, our Dodgers. One fellow stood right there in the corner of the field with a stick on his shoulder and another fellow kept throwing balls at him, and he was such a fine Dodger that fellow didn't hit him once.

Then another player, who didn't even have time to take off his nice black suit told him to walk over to a little white pillow and stand there.

I must do something about such shabby pillows, too. No wonder the boys don't sit down on them.

My friend explained that our Dodger had taken a walk to first base, and that the object now was to get him home.

It's their game, of course, but it is my opinion that if you take a walk with a man and he gets to first base, you'll never get him home.

Strikes a Problem

My friend said one of the manager's biggest problems is that our players are always being called out on strikes. I don't see why he doesn't take this up with the National Labor Relations Board if the union is so unfair.

But we will have a good team, you will see. They shall have the "pennant" this year. If the National League does not give it to them, we will buy them one of their very own.

But you must come and see for yourself what a fine team we have. And I am so happy that they will have a brand new baseball diamond in the Coliseum, rather than use that old Wrigley Field.

If there's anything I simply desire it's a second-hand diamond.

When Prince Carl Bernadotte, now 46 years old, lost his title of Prince of Sweden by marrying the daughter of a commoner, he wasn't out of the royal brackets for long. He was then given the personal title of prince by his brother-in-law, the former King Leopold of Belgium.

Ozarks College Fight Brings More Charges

CLARKSVILLE (UP)—An assistant professor at College of the Ozarks charged today that he was discharged last Saturday in violation of rules of the college.

Charles Hamilton said in a prepared statement today that a professor can be dismissed only for cause and by a vote of the board of trustees after he has been given 30 days notice of the intended action, and with a right of appeal.

"None of these things were done in this case," Hamilton said. Dr. Winslow S. Drummond, president of the college supported by the Presbyterian Synod of Oklahoma, told a student assembly Tuesday that upon authority of the board he had discharged Hamilton last Saturday, with Tuesday, as the deadline for him to leave the campus.

The disagreement between Drummond and Hamilton came to light Monday when a notice was posted that Hamilton's classes were being suspended temporarily, and Drummond ordered Hamilton out of his 8 a.m., sociology class.

Hamilton's statement said he was given no opportunity for "cross examination, study of evidence, or assistance of legal counsel in the closed meeting."

He charged that the meeting was held "designedly" while the dean of the college, who is in charge of all academic affairs, was in a hospital.

"We will also proceed to prove which of the two, the president charges which are apparently motivated by jealousy," the statement said.

Betty Hutton Blasts TV Programs

By VERN SCOTT
United Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Betty Hutton, a rare performer on TV, characterized the medium today as a monument to mediocrity.

The high-octane blonde blasted the Steve Allen, Ed Sullivan and Perry Como shows in particular, saying insufficient money is spent to give viewers quality programs.

"I've turned down guest star offers from all three shows," Betty said. "None of the mercy of the host every time."

"Gee, that doesn't sound right. I mean you're at the mercy of their writers. Instead of being able to do your own material. It's not like doing a movie where no expense is spared to make the star look good. Poor Perry usually has a plain black backdrop for scenery."

Rather Skip It
"I'm a perfectionist. If a show can't be done as well as possible I'd rather skip it. I've been on TV only five times in my life. I'm afraid of it unless I'm in charge of what I'm going to do."

Betty's attitude is easily understood when it is recalled her first TV appearance laid a colossus of an egg.

Beautiful Betty starred in the original video spectacular, a 1 1/2 original color musical titled "Satin and Spurs" some five years ago. You'd have thought Betty had attacked Lawrence Welk and Liberace from the criticism she received.

"It was horrible," Betty admits. "Everyone turned on their sets expecting to see a color show. Heck, the only people with color TV were the NBC executives."

"That program was typical. Producers would rather give audiences less than the best just to keep from working imaginatively."

Betty will have no excuses Sunday, April 27, when she takes over the "Chevy Show" from Shore. She is in complete charge, and has brought along her own writers.

"I'll be no NBC — which also happens to be the network where Betty's husband, Alan Livingston, is a large wheel."

No Connection
"He hasn't a thing to do with the show," Betty maintains. A trifle defensively. "I've lined up the talent myself. George Sanders and I will do a musical sketch, and there'll be some singing and comedy bits with Miyoshi Umeki and Keely Smith and Louis Prima."

"Dinah's show is the only classy show on the air. That's why I agreed to do it."

Betty didn't say whether her guest stars will bring their own writers — as she would like to do on her guest stings. From here it appears that George and Miyoshi, Keely and Louis will be at the mercy of Miss Hutton and her writers.

Trade Offense
Opened by the Russians
By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON (UP)—Soviet Russia is stepping up a world-wide trade-with-aid offensive which officials here believe is hurting the West more than the Sputnik successes or the propaganda offer to halt nuclear tests.

Its main targets are the "under-developed" and "uncommitted" countries.
Chief among them are the United Arab Republic, India, Afghanistan and Indonesia. Western officials are convinced the Soviets' main goal is to push their political influence in these countries at the West's expense.

But Moscow's tireless carpet-bargainers and aid dispensers are striving to extend it to areas which the West hitherto has regarded as its own economic preserves — including Latin America, North Africa, Ethiopia, Saudi Arabia and newly independent Ghana.

Moscow also is working unflaggingly — but with less spectacular results — to step up its trade with Western Europe.

Finland increases Exchanges.
In 1958 this totaled $3,349,300,000 or 4.1 per cent of Western Europe's total trade. Incomplete figures for 1957 show the percentage last year slipped back to 4 per cent. Only Finland and Iceland sharply increased their trade with Russia.

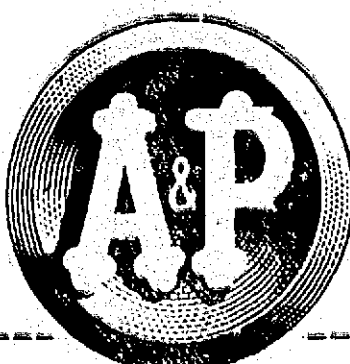

But 1958 may show a new upsurge, partly as a result of a new commercial pact just signed by Russia with West Germany, under which trade between the two will be almost doubled this year.

The U.S. State Department estimated last January that the Soviet bloc has handed out a total of $1,800,000,000 in the past two years in aid to under-developed countries. Most of this has been in the form of long-term credits at the extremely low interest rate of 2.5 per cent. By far the biggest chunk, 760 million dollars, went to Egypt and Syria, now the United Arab Republic.

Egypt's economic tie-up with the Communist bloc, which began in October, 1955, has been full of jokers for the Egyptians. The price of goods shipped to Egypt by the Soviet bloc has jumped 40 per cent within a year. Delivery on some machinery has been subject to delays of up to three years and prices more than doubled after orders were placed. Russia reportedly has fallen far behind schedule in oil deliveries to Egypt.

Offers to Libya Renewed
Recently Russia renewed an offer of 28 million dollars in aid to Libya — an offer that was rejected two years ago. Reports reaching Britain last week said more than 100 "Communist bloc" technicians currently are working on construction of a new port on the Red Sea coast of Yemen.

Indonesia has received 110 million dollars worth of economic aid from the Soviet bloc in the past

PLAN FEWER ATOMIC PLANTS

LONDON (UP)—Britain will hold up its expensive nuclear power program and concentrate on cheaper coal-fired power stations for the next year. A government white paper, outlining capital investment in the electricity, coal and gas industries, said that a higher proportion of projected power stations would be coal fired.

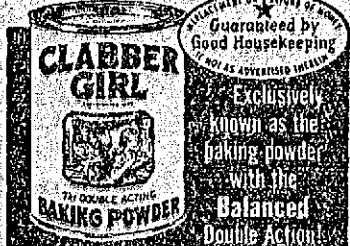

The Recipe

Squeeze and reserve juice from 1 large orange. Measure juice and add milk to make 1 cup liquid. Grind orange rind and pulp with 1 cup seedless raisins and 1/3 cup nut meats; grind twice and set aside. Sift together 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder, 1 teaspoon salt, and 1 cup sugar into large mixing bowl; add 1/2 cup shortening and 2/3 cup liquid. Beat 2 minutes using medium speed of electric mixer, or by hand beating 150 strokes per minute. Keep batter scraped from sides and bottom of bowl with rubber scraper. Add 2 eggs and remaining 1/3 cup liquid. Beat 2 minutes longer as before. Blend in fruit mixture. Pour into a greased and floured 9 x 9 x 2 1/2 inch baking pan. Bake in a 350° F. oven about 45 minutes. Cool. Frost and decorate as desired. Cut in squares. Yield: 1-9 x 9-inch cake.

The "most important" thing about baking...

It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven.

Balanced Double Action means Better Baking!

Negro Groups Can't Agree on Plan

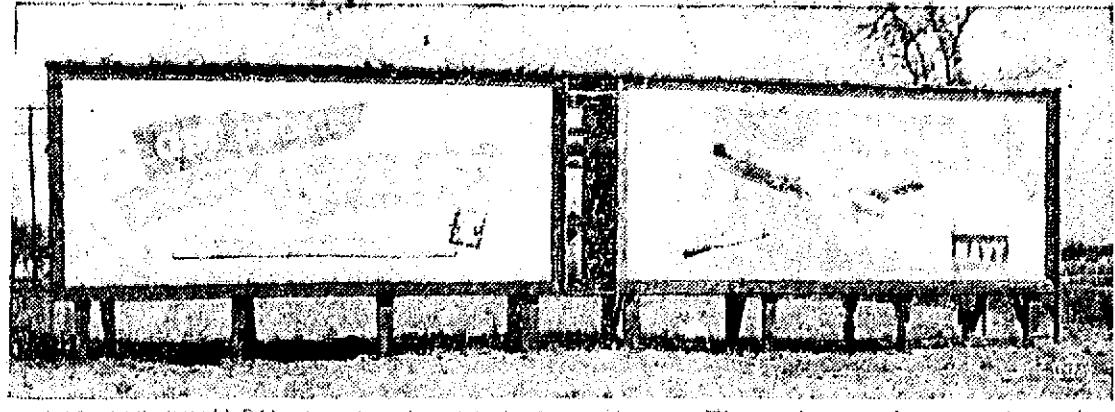

By LLOYD HOLBECK

United Press Staff Correspondent
LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Two Negro factions disagreed today on the Thomas plan to end racial strife in Arkansas schools — one rejecting the suggested commission, the other offering to compromise under certain conditions.

Herbert L. Thomas, Sr., a Little Rock insurance executive, discussed his plan with about 150 Negroes at a meeting he called here. The Rev. R. M. Smith of Little Rock, identifying himself as the leader of one group, militantly rejected the proposal that a commission be named to settle the race problem. Dr. J. M. Robinson, also of Little Rock, offered a compromise on behalf of the group he said he represented.

"We are committed to give our full support to the program of desegregation in the public schools as decreed by the United States Supreme Court," Smith said. He listed four reasons why his faction would not accept the Thomas plan:

"First — we cannot accept the plan of segregation. . . .
"Second — we cannot turn our backs upon the legal gains which we have made from the lowest

SERVICE RIVALRY—An alert Frankfurt (Ind.) Morning Times photographer, conscious of current Pentagon attempts to dispel charges of interservice rivalry, found an unintended and embarrassing example in these billboards at an intersection near that city. Ironically, the Navy poster had been put up by mistake, explained the billboard owner. The day the picture appeared in the newspaper, the Navy advertisement was replaced by a commercial one, to stop the "competition" between the services—and a flood of kidding telephone calls.

court to the Supreme Court. . . .
"Third — we cannot agree for the nine children who entered Central high school to withdraw at the end of this school term because such action on our part would destroy the hopes and aspirations of these nine and all other Negro children who aspire for equal opportunities in education.
"And fourth — we believe that such a compromise would not be in keeping with the highest concepts of morality and Christian teachings."

Robinson, who resigned recently after heading the state's Negro Democratic party for 25 years, offered a compromise on behalf of his "conservative" faction.

"We will not ask for a reversal of court judgment in the matter of desegregation," he said. "We will not consent to the withdrawal of the nine. We will not seek segregation of the schools now integrated.
"We are willing to leave matters in status quo and will make no effort to push desegregation any further, only through voluntary action on the part of school boards and parents concerned and within the prescribed mandate of the Supreme Court."

Only Five Cases of Malaria

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The State Board of Health reports only five cases of malaria were reported to the department in Arkansas in 1957, and all were acquired outside the United States.

One case was in a civilian, and four were in military personnel.

The board said 4,448 cases were reported in Arkansas 20 years ago, but there had been no proof of "local transmission" of the disease in the state in "several years."

Work Orders on Highway Projects

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas Highway Department issued orders Tuesday for the immediate start of work on three road and bridge projects at a total cost of $312,481.

One is the Loxora - West and South road, state highway 1, in Mississippi county. The contract for $42,515 is held by the Ben M. Hogan Co., of Little Rock.

Another is the Cum Springs - Arkadelphia Reconstruction project on highway 67 in Clark county. Graves Brothers of Pine Bluff, on a bid of $130,538, will do the work.

The other is a bridge across Pigeon Roost creek on highway 38, in Lonoke county. Buecon Construction Co., of Hazen holds the contract on a bid of $30,420.

TRANSIT REVENUE DOWN
NEW YORK (UP) — Passenger revenue on New York City's subways dropped $4,304,543 in a nine month period ending March 31, the Transit Authority announced today. The drop was blamed primarily on the recession.

New Crisis as Government of France Resigns

By ARTHUR L. HIGBEE

United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS (UP) — The government of Premier Felix Gaillard resigned early today in the wake of an adverse 321-225 vote in the National Assembly.

Gaillard had put his Tunisian policy up for an "unofficial" vote of confidence.

President Rene Coty immediately named the 38-year-old former finance minister as caretaker premier — a post with no power, no voice in crucial NATO meetings now being held, and no authority to answer an expected onslaught on French policies in the United Nations.

Gaillard's defeat at the hands of right-wing forces led by Gaullist Jacques Soustelle and the large Communist bloc was a serious blow to U.S.-British efforts to mediate France's dispute with Tunisia.

Fear Loss of Algeria
Rightists feared Gaillard's "soft" policy towards Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba would eventually cost France Algeria as well. They look upon Algeria as an integral part of metropolitan France, like Alsace-Lorraine.

Leftists maintained France should settle her costly embroilment in North Africa by granting independence to Algeria.

Eight weeks of tireless efforts by British and U.S. diplomats to mediate the dispute arising from the French bombing of the Tunisian village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef evaporated Tuesday night in an outburst of ill feeling against the United States and President Eisenhower.

A letter last week from Eisenhower to Gaillard urging him to seek a peaceful settlement with Tunisia stemming backfired, with rightwing extremists denouncing American policy and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

While 2,000 riot police gathered outside to head off possible demonstrations, Gaillard assured the Assembly that "if the government has acted in a certain way toward Tunisia, it is not because of this (Eisenhower) message but because it felt it was wise to do so."

American Influence Scored
Soustelle, who was governor-general of Algeria two years ago, rapped back: "Where is French policy made? In Washington?"

Five months in office had left Gaillard looking haggard. After the vote, he walked through the Assembly lobbies, a cigarette in his mouth, and made his way to Coty's residence to hand in his resignation. Delegates sat in stony silence.

This was like the other 25 cabinet crises since the war — but worse. None could think of a suitable coalition that could give France a new government. There was talk that the postwar Fourth Republic might end and that only a Gaullist dictatorship could save France.

Perhaps the biggest winners were the Communists, who have long sought a "popular front" government. There was a strong possibility also the developments

Hempstead Reports Chicken Pox, Mumps

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Four so-called childhood diseases mounted in Arkansas the week ending last Saturday, according to the morbidity report released today by the State Board of Health.

A total of 362 cases of measles more than doubled the 140 cases the week before, and brought the year's total to 1,932 compared with 801 at the same time last year. Carroll county led the state with 150 cases.

German measles jumped from 104 cases the previous week to 330 cases last week, sending the year's total rocketing to 1,211 as compared with 261 the same period last year.

Chickenpox was up to 68 from 22 the previous week, but the 413 cases for the year were still below the 412 at the same time last year. Hempstead and Prairie counties had 35 cases each to lead the state.

Mumps jumped from five cases the previous week to 61 last week. The total for the year was 129, compared with 178 for the same period in 1957. Rural Polaski county had 25 cases, and Hempstead county 6.

No new cases of polio were reported, leaving the total for the year at three compared with seven for the same period in 1957.

KEEP YOUR DISTANCE—One of the easiest driving rules of thumb to remember, but not always easy to visualize, is to keep at least one car length behind the car ahead for each 10 miles of driving speed. Drawings above show how the car ahead should appear to a driver following it at speeds from 30 to 70 miles per hour. Driving experts stress, however, that this rule is for the absolute minimum safety distance and that other factors should always be taken into account, such as road condition, car's mechanical condition and the individual driver's reaction time.

Some of the cowboys had returned from their work and were loafing about near the bunkhouse. Lily became aware then that the sun was about to sink below the horizon in the west and knew that it was late.

Lily went back into the office. She had scarcely entered when she heard the pinging of galloping hoofs. Going to the door, she saw Jeff riding into the ranch yard.

Lily reverted to Fred Case's desk. Boots crunched the hard-packed earth outside the office, then Jeff entered.

"Some things you and I have got to have out," he said abruptly. "If this marriage is going to continue—"

Lily seated herself in Case's chair. "Anything you propose is going to be predicted upon one condition, that you give back to Lobo what you took from Lobo."

"I thought our marriage was a partnership," he said stiffly. "But if that's the way you feel about it, all right. You'll get back what I spent, over and above the actual Lobo expenses. Anything else?"

"A thousand head of Lobo cattle have disappeared . . ."

"You don't know that."

"I've been going over the tally books."

"Fred Case is senile. If he ever knew how to keep a tally book, he forgot it along with his memory. That's the chief reason I fired him—"

"You fired Fred?" Lily cried, against.

"I sent him packing this morning."

She sprang to her feet. "How dare you! Fred was my father's foreman before I was born."

"Every man on this ranch carries his load. I won't have a deadhead on the place."

"You have no right to give orders on this ranch. Lobo is mine."

"Keep it, then!"

"There's nothing more to talk about," Lily said coldly.

Jeff cursed himself inwardly. His violent temper had momentarily got the best of him. Lily had not yet plumbed the depths of his perfidy—and he could not risk her going into things too deeply.

He said with tremendous effort, "All right. I apologize."

"It's a little too late for an apology."

Do you want me to get down on my knees?" he asked. He needed her. Even if it meant crawling.

"It doesn't do any good, Jeff. I know what you've done, how much you've stolen from Lobo."

"Stolen? When we got married we merged our ranches, our money. We pooled everything."

"I don't ever recall giving you permission to run Lobo."

It was necessary for Alderton again to make a tremendous effort to restrain himself. He wanted to smash the beautiful face in front of him.

He said hoarsely, "How much can you humiliate me, Lily?"

"You stripped Lobo of every thing. You took Lobo's income and put it into your personal account and now your fine friend, Mike Denver, has put on the pressure."

"What?"

"Denver controls the bank. Or didn't you know that? He's forbidden Marshall Eads to make any loans to Lobo. In order to continue the operations on this ranch, I've got to sell off Lobo."

And with the rustling that's been going on, I don't know what—"

Jeff Alderton's face was a picture of puzzled anxiety. His previous concern about his relationship with Lily was gone for the moment.

"I saw Denver this afternoon," he said. "He didn't say a word about . . ." His words trailed off and he looked abruptly on strode out of the ranch office.

Mike Denver entered his Lobo Saloon and stopped just inside the door. Denver signaled to the head bartender. "One for everybody, Jules. On the house."

Only one man did not join in the general approval: Marshall Eads, who stood at the end of the bar nursing a glass of beer.

Denver said to him, "Want to talk to you, Eads."

"Good," said Eads. Denver went to the stairs and climbed up to the balcony. He reached the top to note that Eads had paused to finish his beer before following.

In his office Denver came to the point "Rawlings is shipping some cattle," he said, "about 2,000 head. He wants fifty thousand against the shipment."

"We can't give him the money until we have the bill of lading. The amount is too big unless it's secured."

"My word's the security, Marshall."

"Very well, if you'll stop in at the bank in the morning, and sign the note, I'll credit Rawlings' account with the fifty thousand."

"You heard me wrong, Marshall. I said my word was the security. I didn't say I'd sign a note."

"Mike," said Eads, "there are rules about banking procedure."

"I haven't the time to learn them now. Just give Rawlings the money and don't bother me with the details." He leaned back in his swivel chair. "I understand the bank holds a lot of paper on these sort of things."

"Perhaps 40 to 45 mortgages." Eads gasped. "What?"

"I said, foreclose."

"Virtually every one of those mortgages is amply secured."
